A message from Senior Minister Galen Guengerich:

Membership is the step to take when you're ready to make a difference – in your own life, in our congregation, and in our community.

Lots of people enjoy visiting All Souls from time to time, and some even develop a long-term relationship as a “friend” of the congregation. At some point, however, most people who are attracted to this community of open hearts and open minds decide to become members. It indicates that they take seriously their spiritual journey. For them, All Souls becomes a spiritual home: a place of pastoral comfort and moral challenge. If you're ready, I encourage you to take this step.

Welcome home!

About All Souls

Established in 1819, All Souls is a self-governing congregation of nearly 1,500 people who come together to worship, serve the community and create an enriching, non-dogmatic religious environment. All Souls is dedicated to providing an environment in which all feel welcome regardless of race, sexual orientation or physical ability. The church is led by the Rev. Galen Guengerich, Senior Minister. He is author of God Revised: How Religion Must Evolve in a Scientific Age and writes a regular column “On Faith” for FaithStreet.com and a column on “The Search for Meaning” for PsychologyToday.com, as well as writing occasionally for Huffington Post and other media.

Welcome Workshops

Find out more about our congregation and membership at Welcome to All Souls, an opportunity to get to know the church, as well as Senior Minister Galen Guengerich and Executive Director Eileen Macholl. The workshops offer a comfortable, intimate setting to explore our congregation and history, the principles of Unitarian Universalism, spiritual practice and service, and how you can find your place in the All Souls community.

Workshops are once a month on Sunday afternoons, 1:00 – 3:00 p.m., in the comfort of the Ware Room on the ground floor. A light lunch is offered.

For more information, or to arrange for free childcare, contact us at (212) 535-5530.

Souls In Action Fairs

Curious about how All Soulsers are making an impact on the congregation, the city and the world? Looking for a way to get more involved yourself? Come to a Souls In Action fair on one of the following Sundays during coffee hour to visit tables maintained by All Souls' groups for fellowship and service.
